

Endo Vac

- EndoVac is a suctioning device that allows predictable irrigation to working length by drawing fluids from the access preparation through the root canal system & into a microcannula. EndoVac overcomes the physical constraints which normally limit the flow of irrigants to working length.

